TILLMAN WOULD BUILD ONE GREAT WARSHIP AS WORLD'S PEACEMAKER

In Resolution Urges Construction of One Enormous Fighting Machine Regardless of Cost, and Would Then End the Yearly Naval Appropriations.

BY C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—The construction of one enormous fighting machine, to be named the "Terror," charged with the duty of maintaining the world's peace, and then a discontinuance of the yearly appropriations for naval increase, is the programme advocated by Senator Tillman of South Carolina.

Mr. Tillman is a veteran member of the Senate committee on Naval Affairs. He has been engaged in this work for approximately 18 years. His views regarding the building of this one mammoth warship are:

"Let us find out just how far we can go with any degree of safety and go there at once."

Would be Named "Terror."
"Let such a vessel be named the 'Terror,' and become the peacemaker of the world; let us leave some money in the Treasury for other and more useful expenditures such as good roads, controlling the floods in the Mississippi, draining the swamp land in the South and irrigating the arid land in the West."

The following resolution, calling for official and expert information concerning the possibilities of the "Terror," was introduced in the Senate by Mr. Tillman:

"Resolved: That the committee on Naval Affairs be and it is hereby instructed to investigate and report to the Senate: what is the maximum size of ship, whether battleship or cruiser; the maximum thickness of armor that such ship can carry safely; the maximum size of gun, the maximum speed and the maximum desirable radius of action of such vessel that can safely be built so as to navigate the ocean and enter the first-class harbors of the world; how much draft can such vessel carry in order to enter the existing drydocks in this country for repairs, and to safely pass through the Panama Canal."

Would Lead Navies.
"The object would be to find out from authentic and reliable official sources the maximum size and maximum draft, the maximum armament, and the maximum thickness of armor in order to make the very best battleship or cruiser that the world has ever seen or will ever see; the purpose being to have this country own the greatest marine engine of war ever constructed or ever to be constructed under known conditions; and to report, whether one such overpowering vessel would not in its judgment be better for this country to build than to continue, by increasing taxation, to spend the millions and millions of dollars now in prospect in the race for naval supremacy."

CAMPBELL HAS FIVE JOBS AND 'NOTHIN' TO DO TILL TOMORROW'

How many jobs can one lone man handle in a day?

The cartoonist who made famous the phrase "Nothin' to do till tomorrow" in his struggle to answer this question, must have been thinking of Marston Campbell.

At any rate, a recital of the jobs, industrial and official—mostly official—that Campbell at present essays to handle has a peculiar similarity to the said cartoonist's statement of what a full day's work should include.

Although Campbell resigned some time ago from the onerous duties of Superintendent of Public Works, he is still the superintendent, because no successor to the position has been appointed. At the same time that he resigned he took up other duties, becoming an official of the Honolulu Iron Works. He now does his work for the company, too.

Also, he is chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, and by virtue of a high-powered motor car he is able to skim over the water-front, pick out flaws in present conditions here and there and scheme up new improvements; and then attend the regular weekly meetings of the commission every Wednesday afternoon.

And then he is a member of the conservation board. In between times, when he is not looking after business for the iron works, or figuring on new public improvements for the Territory in general, or for the various harbors of the islands in particular, he's laying plans to conserve various things that ought to be saved to the public.

And, then—oh, yes—he also is a member of the loan fund commissions. There are four of them, one for each of the big islands, and by virtue of his position as Superintendent of Public Works, Mr. Campbell must be a member ex-officio of all these, which mean that he holds just about equal power and responsibility and distinction with the other members of these four loan fund commissions.

So, when he isn't going anything else and time hands heavily on his hands, Marston can figure ways and means of distributing portions of the new bond issue among the islands. What he does with the remainder of his time no one knows. Some folk say he squanders six to eight hours out of every twenty-four in sleep.

McCLELLAN AND THE GOVERNORSHIP

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—Representative Campbell of Kansas and Rudolph Forster, assistant secretary to the President, have both given out letters here declaring that no effort was made to secure the gubernatorial appointment for Mr. George McK. McClellan. The letters in full follow:

The White House,

Washington, July 2, 1912.

My Dear Mr. Campbell: Your letter of July 1, addressed to the President, has been received. He directs me to acknowledge it for him and to say that, so far as his knowledge extends, Mr. George McK. McClellan of Honolulu has never asked for the appointment as Governor of Hawaii. No request for his appointment has ever been made to the President. Sincerely yours,

(Signed) RUDOLPH FORSTER.
Hon. P. P. Campbell, House of Representatives.

The House of Representatives,

Washington, D. C., July 3, 1912.

Mr. Geo. McK. McClellan, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. McClellan: I enclose you herewith a letter from the White House, which is explicitly conclusive.

The letter is signed by the first assistant secretary to the President owing to the absence of Mr. Hilles from the capital. I desire to say, however, that in a personal interview with Secretary Hilles, before he left the city, Mr. Hilles said to me that no one had presented your name for the governorship of Hawaii.

In view of these statements by the President and Secretary Hilles, it would not seem that anyone could longer give credence to the rumor that you were a candidate for the governorship of Hawaii. Sincerely yours, (Signed) PHIL P. CAMPBELL.

By arrangement this monthly meeting is to be considered a continuation of the annual meeting and all matters not completed at the annual meeting, which was held at Lihue July 11-18, will be attended to then.

U. S. WILL CLEAR HARBOR CHANNEL

The entrance channel to Honolulu harbor is to be cleared of any silt or sand that has accumulated in the track used by deep sea traffic. Dredging operations are to be started by the United States Engineers within the next few months, and the channel put in as good condition as the harbor, in point of depth and smooth-swept bottom.

The job is not new work, but is a re-dredging proposition, and the sum of $17,000 is now available for the work. Major W. P. Wooten, the army engineer in charge of rivers and harbors in the district, has advertised for sealed proposals for the work, to be opened at his office August 19.

Some time ago a portion of the harbor was cleaned out by the Standard American Dredging Company's big turbine, and when the entrance channel is cleared out, the harbor, though small, will at least be of a uniform depth, sufficient to accommodate any vessel now calling here, with a good margin of safety.

NEW JAPANESE FISH INDUSTRY

Honolulu Japanese have developed a new industry in the local fisheries now all but monopolized by them.

The Japanese are buying up all the surplus aku, when big catches are brought into the market, which they manufacture into a peculiar article of dried fish for export to the mainland. They have erected a plant in the rear of the Fisheries company's place at the market, where they clean, boil and then sun-dry the fish, making an article that is said to keep well besides being quite palatable.

Also they produce two by-products. One consists of the entrails of the fish, compounded and cooked into some kind of a chowder or soup that is said to be relished by the Japanese. The other by-product consists of the heads and tails, which are collected and sold to the fertilizer works.
